- ★ Location: Isolated within the Indian Ocean, the tropical nation of the Maldives consists of 26 natural atolls, with more than 1000 islands and coral reefs. Dazzling turquoise waters, over-water bungalows, and colorful marine life attract travelers and honeymooners from all over the world.
- ★ Weather: The Maldives' tropical climate allow you to enjoy warm temperatures and sunny days all year round. The temperature variations range from 25° to 32° C.
- ★ Currency: The local currency of the Maldives is called the Rufiyaa (MRF) and it is possible to exchange currency at the airport upon arrival. However many licensed shops, and most of the resorts, accept USD.
- ★ Alcohol: Even though alcohol is illegal in the Maldives, keep in mind that it is allowed in the resorts located on private islands.

Are the Maldives Safe?

Being globally known for their conservative character and culture, it is only natural to wonder if the Maldivian islands are the perfect choice for your gay honeymoon. Is it safe?

The answer depends mostly on your personal expectations when visiting the Maldives, as well as your traveling habits. But whether you are looking for vivid cities or isolated resorts, one thing is for sure: the Maldives has it all!

The Maldives is a Muslim country, so you won't find an organized gay community or gay scene, even in the Maldivian urban centres.

Because of this, gay travelers should always be wary in public.

However, the amazing Maldivian resorts are especially known for their welcoming mentality and the exceptional service they offer.

Charming honeymoon ocean suites, water-restaurants, and wellness resorts await to offer you a unique honeymoon experience! Keep reading this article to find Travel by Interest's recommendations about the best resorts for gay travelers in the Maldives!

Extra Tip: The four largest cities in the Maldives are Male at Kaafu Atoll, Fuvahmulah at Gnyaviyani Atoll, Hithadhoo at Addu City Atoll, and Kulhudhuffushi at Haa Dhaalu Atholhu.
